Library publishes second historic driving tour

June 16, 2010

The Carolina First South Carolina Room of the Greenville County Library System recently published the second edition of its "Greenville County Driving Tour of Historic Sites." The full-color, 48-page booklet offers detailed Northern Tour, Downtown Tour and Southern Tour routes through the county and includes images and historical background from library archives about the 53 featured locations.

"The Greenville County Driving Tour of Historic Sites" can be purchased for $4 at any library location, in the Carolina First South Carolina Room, in the Friends Shop at the Hughes Main Library, and at select retailers in the area.

The publication was produced with support from the Friends of the Greenville County Library System.

Local employees use business hours as volunteer opportunity

On June 11, about 30 volunteers from Deloitte LLP's Greenville office participated in the 11th Annual IMPACT Day, Deloitte's national volunteer service day. Employees spent the morning playing games in Cleveland Park with children from Greenville's Pendleton Place Children's Shelter and visited the Greenville Zoo with the children after lunch.

Greenville Middle to offer Mandarin Chinese summer camp

Greenville Middle Academy will offer rising sixth-through eighth-graders the opportunity to learn Mandarin greetings, phrases and numbers from native Chinese speakers during a Mandarin Chinese Summer Camp from 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m. July 19-22 at the school.

Students also will have instruction in tai chi, origami, calligraphy and painting, and each student will receive a guidebook and CD. A healthy snack will be provided each day.

Museum to host swing dance

The Upcountry History Museum and Greenville Lindy Hoppers will hold a G.I. Jive Swing Dance from 6:30 p.m.-2:30 a.m. Friday at the Upcountry History Museum, 540 Buncombe St. in downtown Greenville.

This 1944-style swing dance will feature live music from the Atomic All Stars, history tables and a vintage photo booth. Participants are encouraged to wear 1940s-inspired attire.

Tickets for the dance from 6:30 p.m.-midnight are $15. There will be an additional $2 charge for the late-night Blackout Blues Dance from midnight-2:30 a.m. Light refreshments and tea will be served.

To purchase tickets at the door, bring cash or a check, as credit and debit cards will not be accepted on the night of the event.
